There is / There are

There is	There are	Yes there is / are
There's	There're
Is There?	Are there?
There is not	There are not	No there isn't / aren't
Isn't there?	Aren't there?

El uso del "there is" o "there are" depende del sustantivo que les sigue inmediatamente después. Se usa there is si el sustantivo es singular, there are si el sustantivo es plural.

There is an apple on the table. (Hay una manzana en la mesa.)

There are some apples on the table. (Hay algunas manzanas en la mesa.)

--- PARA PROFUNDIZAR EN EL TEMA ---

Contractions are possible, but they are mostly used informally in speech.

- There's a fly in my soup. Other forms of "be" can also be used with there is/there are.
- There will be a party at Bill's house on Saturday.
- There were four witnesses at the crime scene.

Since the expression there is/are usually has no equivalent in other languages, students sometimes use have instead.
